

Congregational Health Team

The Congregational Health Team is comprised of Karin deJonge-Kannan, Mary Feldman, Sarah Los, and Debbie Waite. Under the mentorship of Pastor Scott, we hold prayerful meetings every month to discuss how to care for our congregation. This year we have implemented “prayer and care” cards for members to fill out during worship. These cards can be used to request prayer or request a visit from a member of the Congregational Health Team. The visit can consist of conversation, prayer, or simply sitting and listening together to what God might be saying.

The Congregational Health Team is here to support Prince of Peace and its people by providing prayer, coordinating meals, arranging for rides to appointments, bringing communion to those unable to attend worship, and being present to accompany anyone who might be experiencing pain, loss or suffering. We have discussed potential ideas to rally the church around the idea of health, such as walking groups, cycling groups, or other wellness activities that reflect all levels of ability.

If you are aware of a need in the congregation and would like our team to provide care, please contact Karin deJonge-Kannan at 435-760-5350 via phone call or text message.

If you would like to join Congregational Health Team, please contact Pastor Scott or Karin deJonge-Kannan.
